

Three achievements

Public speaking.

A big part of my life is Public speaking. Public speaking to me is a way for me to express my words and thoughts to an audience. It's a passion that I've always loved since I was a little girl. I remember when I was a toddler I used to create stories with my Barbie dolls and then present them to my parents. I loved the affectionate, happy applause my parents would give me after I tell my stories and that always made me feel special. This year I was able to get second place in the St George network public speaking competition. It was such a huge shock to us to get such an honourable mention. This was also a huge improvement to last year's competition because last year I got third place. Every year I also participate in the AMEB speech and drama exams and this year I was lucky enough to get a high distinction! To me there are three people I would like to thank. My speech teacher, Emily, for supporting me and helping me throughout the past five years, and My father for always spending countless hours with me just so that I can perfect my speeches, I can always rely on him to help me and be there for me with my competitions and lastly, I would like to thank my mum for being so encouraging and reassuring before my competitions it truly means a lot to me.

School captain.

I've always wanted a leadership role, to me knowing the feeling that you are a role model to the school makes you feel special, all these responsibilities that you have as a school captain is are so exciting, fun and adventurous. It's a great opportunity to learn and grow as a leader and help me expand my social knowledge. I still remember when I figured out I wanted to be a school captain. It all began in kindergarten when I came to the school I saw how the school captains talked with a mic during assembly's assemblies, goes to other schools and lastly how so many people look up to them, From then on I realised I wanted to be the school captain. Luckily enough after presenting a speech and filling in an application form I was so honoured to get the role of 2023 school captain. I would like to thank my teacher for encouraging me and others and my father for helping me practice my captain speech.

The high distinction in English

Ever since I was little I loved reading books and writing stories. Personally, I think English isn't a chore in fact it's something I like to do on a daily basis. Whether it's reading, writing or more I never hold a grunge grudge for doing English. I loved when my parents read me stories, it was like the book was coming to life in my head and the feeling of curiosity m wonder and adventure always enlightened my mind. I do the ICAS every year and I was able to achieve a High Distinction in the ICAS English test. I would like to thank my mum for always helping me grow m6 English knowledge. She would always spend time with me so that I can be better at English and keep up with the rest.

This piece is good, you were able to follow the instructions. It's great to know that you have got so much potential and you are ambitious.

You added emotions to your writing by expressing your feelings. That's marvellous!

Watch out for the grammatical errors highlighted above.

Keep up the hard work! Keep chasing your dreams.
