

Too fragmented. Merge these and simplify into one sentence.

My name is Yisub So. I am 10 years old. I am in Year 4 (Turning Year 5 by the end of this month), and I made it into Ironbark Ridge Public School (OC class). I enjoy learning new things and writing different text types like poems, narratives and reports. I also like to read different books. My favourite genres are Mythology, Comedy and Fantasy. I find Maths, English, playing games and Science very enjoyable. I have a brother named Ethan, and a mum and dad. I have received many sport awards and academic awards. My favourite food is pizza and I love eating fruit. I am a very capable student. I like playing with my little brother in my free time. I enjoy going to school and playing with my friends. I have gone to multiple schools (Due to moving houses and OC) and hope to have an enjoyable time at Scholarly. My favourite book is Tom Gates-Family, Friends and Furry Creatures. He has lots of similarities and differences with me. My dream occupation is to become a soccer player, mathematician, scientist, doctor or a youtuber. I have many friends who are fun to play with. I am very sociable and make friends with other people very quickly. I want to become a person who donates money to charity, just like Bill Gates did. I want to start a world-wide company that helps many people and think of a cure or new formula for people to use. My ambition is to help the world be a better place. I like taking notes during class and I am a very organised person. In my free time I like watching YouTube, reading, playing video games and doing sport. I hope to have a bright future and influence many children into becoming good kids.

I do get the fact that you wanted to crunch all the things you want to tell about yourself but this piece is too rushed! There is no proper transition from one idea to the next and this may leave readers to not process much information since you're jumping from one topic to another! To fix this, slow down, simplify, and explain. That's all you gotta do big dog. I know you can do it, this work has good potential :))

Quite rushed, slow down a bit and explain each or have a proper transition!
