

Part 2 No.2- Tara Anglican School for Girls (TASG)

Why do I want to be in Tara? Well, I believe that their school motto, “Be Inspired, Be challenged, Be excellent, Be you” is a motto that I preserve. To be inspired, I always have something that motivates me. ^{instead of a period, separate the two sentences with a comma} Whether that is a quote or something that I remember of. I am still always inspired every day. Be challenged. I am always challenging myself on tasks and I have an aspect of this, my patience. My patience is crucial in this part because a challenge can be quite nerve-wracking sometimes, but if you have patience, you will never have this feeling of giving up. And I believe that describes a part of me. Be excellent. I am excellent because I always try my best in everything I do. I never give up on anything, and I finish what I started. Be you. Well, to be yourself you have to use all your self-qualities every day. I think that I am a person who uses all their self-qualities such as patience, leadership, love of learning and much more. I strongly demonstrate these skills whether I am at home, school or just about anywhere. I preserve these concepts. Tara is just the perfect school for me as I know how and what makes me the ideal student to be in Tara Anglican School for Girls (TASG).

Your piece is really excellent! However, I think it is too short and it would be better if you also added past experiences that proves WHY you are a best fit for the school you are currently choosing. What else is in store that you can offer and contribute to the school? This piece really has great potential, if you had expanded this just a bit more it would have been perfect! Nevertheless, keep up with the good writing :))
