

Mention the name of your dream private school :)

I can contribute to my dream private school in a number of ways. About two years ago, I joined a competition. The competition was about building robots, programming them, and then driving them in the competition. It was called the VEX Robotics Competition. I was the programmer inside the team. In the robotics competition I learnt a lot about programming and how robots work. My knowledge of programming and robotics will benefit the school. I also learnt a lot about teamwork. My teamwork skills would definitely benefit the school

I have taken part in some leadership roles. I have been part of the Student Representative Council. I represented my class in making decisions for the school to the student's interests. I have also been a volunteer to become a tutor at a coding course. and how can you use these learnings?

This is a very short text. First of all, in your first paragraph, you claimed that you can contribute to your dream school in a "number of ways" yet the supporting details only include a single strength of yours. You should've added more of your achievements and accomplishments if you really want to impress people with your skills. Moreover, as for the second paragraph, it is also too brief. It lacks information. Just what I commented, you have to expound on the roles you have mentioned. Go into details about your tasks and what you have learned. Don't be stingy with information. You have to sell yourself!
