

How can you contribute to your dream private school?

I can contribute to King's by using my ability to work well in a team and lead people, participating in extracurricular activities and taking on leadership roles. I can use my ability to work well in a team to contribute to the school by joining team sports and activities that I can thrive in. My leadership skills would help me in this as it would assist me in leading the team. I can also achieve in both sports and academics. Thus, representing the school and contributing. I am able to do this because of the many awards I have gotten. I have gotten multiple academic excellence awards, achievement awards, and math and english excellence awards. These awards show what I am capable of and that I would be able to represent the school, therefore, contributing. I can also contribute to Kings through sports, such as soccer, tennis and swimming. I have done numerous tennis camps and have won countless soccer matches. On top of this, I have also gotten multiple swimming awards. Another way to contribute is through taking on leadership roles. Although I have not obtained any as of yet, I am eager to take on the challenge of getting one.

Have you taken part in any leadership roles?

No, I haven't had any major leadership roles yet. Although I did attempt to become a school leader at my new school, as most people voted for people they knew, I wasn't selected. To become a leader. However, I have taken on multiple minor leadership roles, such as leading my team in maths, reading and even sport. Even though I haven't had any major leadership roles yet, I am hoping to get one in my future years at The King's School.

It's good that you went into the specifics to prove your point but it had lead to a point where your ideas are redundant. It is important to know that when writing something, you have to organise the ideas clearly and properly. This can be achieved by talking about a topic one at a time and in order, not by jumping back and forth. When you mentioned about "team sports" you could've immediately followed it up with the sports you played, not after a few sentences that talked about another thing. Moreover, as for your second paragraph, I think you could still do better. But all in all, you have answered the question and that's still good! :)
