

Section 1:

#1 (First paragraph): a. Strengths:

- Your opening captures attention with a relatable topic.
- You clearly state your position on the issue.

b. Weaknesses: Unfocused introduction Your introduction lacks coherence and fails to provide a clear roadmap for your essay. The transition from the general idea of social media to your specific argument is abrupt. For instance, the sentence "Most children are getting too negatively attracted to the appealing video's not knowing the long terms effects to their mentality" is vague and doesn't connect well with your thesis statement.

c. Exemplar: "Social media has become an integral part of modern life, but its impact on children under 13 is a growing concern. This essay argues that social media access should be restricted for this age group due to potential addiction, financial risks, and cyberbullying."

#2 (Second paragraph): a. Strengths:

- You provide a personal anecdote to support your argument.
- You attempt to show the long-term consequences of social media addiction.

b. Weaknesses: Underdeveloped argument Your argument lacks depth and supporting evidence. The anecdote about your friend on Discord is not fully developed to illustrate your point. You state that she is "not doing well in life" without providing specific details or explaining how this relates to social media use.

c. Exemplar: "For instance, my friend's academic performance has declined significantly since she began using Discord six months ago. Her grades have dropped from As to Cs, and she often misses assignments due to late-night chatting sessions."

#3 (Fourth paragraph): a. Strengths:

- You address a significant issue related to social media use.
- You attempt to show the emotional impact of cyberbullying.

b. Weaknesses: Overstatement and lack of nuance Your discussion of cyberbullying tends towards hyperbole and lacks nuance. The statement "Rarely anyone has good digital citizenship on social media" is an overgeneralisation. Additionally, your conclusion about the worst-case scenarios ("you kill yourself or you never go in public") is too extreme without proper context or supporting evidence.

c. Exemplar: "While many users practice good digital citizenship, cyberbullying remains a serious concern on social media platforms. Children under 13 may be particularly vulnerable to online harassment, which can lead to emotional distress and, in severe cases, have long-lasting psychological impacts."

Actionable task: Rewrite your introduction paragraph, focusing on providing a clear and concise overview of your main arguments against social media use for children under 13. Ensure that you include a strong thesis statement that outlines the three key points you will discuss in your essay.

Overall score: 38/50

Section 2: Revision Guidelines

The Debate on Kids Under 13 and Social Media

The world's most important things to parents and some children. Something that they ~~are always~~ are [are always] glued on [to], yes we all know. It's Social media. Most children are getting too negatively attracted to the appealing ~~video's~~ [videos] not knowing the long ~~terms~~ [term] effects ~~to~~ [on] their mentality. These are the following reasons why I wholeheartedly believe that social media should not be allowed for 13 years and under. They will get attracted too much and not do any work creating them to fail in life, children under 13 will spend money on something useless, and people will cyberbully on any social media platform.

#1 One of the major problems is that they can fail in life. Children 13 and under~~,~~ are not mature enough to listen immediately to parents or guardians and if the guardian can't stop them, then they will get addicted too much. An example is that my friend is always on discord even though she is doing online class. The first time she was on discord was when her friends told her about it on the bus. She was so excited to see the app and chat to all her friends (This was 6 months ago). The second she got on the app, she chattered constantly and could never stop even though she wanted to. Now she is still chatting however she is not doing well in life.

Moreover, people are paying money and receiving nothing, even though the person seemed kind or looks kind. There are people who are greedy and want money, that is the reason why there is ~~adds~~ [are ads] and ~~clickbait's~~ [clickbaits] that try to capture your attention. Scammers are all over the world trying to make you pay on social media. If their voice is disguised or the ~~adds~~ [ads] they make, will enthrall children's eyes. Children don't have ~~many~~ [much] experience ~~to~~ [with] scammers and will not know the long term effects.

#3 Last but not least, there is cyberbullying. Rarely anyone has good digital citizenship on social media. There ~~is~~ [are] some extremely rude people with disgusting ~~behaviour~~ [behaviour], that ~~hurts~~ [hurt] people's feelings or ~~embarrasses~~ [embarrass] them. Strangers are trolling on social media platforms to try to make ~~them~~ [themselves] famous. When they are not getting famous, cyberbullying starts. People swearing on social media or calling people bad names can have bad effects. The person might be reported if that social media has high technology but not many social ~~media's~~ [media platforms] are like that. The worst things could happen, like, you kill yourself or you never go in public because ~~the~~ [of the] harassment they do on the website.

~~In conclusion, you should agree with me that social media platforms should not be used by kids 13 or under because they will get addicted, they will pay money but receive nothing and there is cyber bullying. So what are you waiting for? If you are 13 or under on a social media platform then get off it immediately and if you are a parent, limit screen time.~~

[In conclusion, social media platforms should not be used by children 13 or under due to the risks of addiction, financial exploitation, and cyberbullying. If you are 13 or under and using a social media platform, it is advisable to stop immediately. Parents should consider implementing strict limits on screen time to protect their children from these potential dangers.]
