

Section 1:

#1 (First paragraph) Strengths:

- Strong opening with vivid imagery that engages readers emotionally
- Clear thesis statement establishing your position on economic growth vs cultural preservation

Weaknesses: Underdeveloped Main Argument → While you create an appealing visual scenario, your main argument lacks specific examples of how economic growth leads to citizen satisfaction. The phrase "jolly laughter of the satisfied citizens" would be more convincing with concrete examples of how economic growth creates this satisfaction.

Exemplar: "Imagine your city prospering through increased job opportunities and higher wages, where citizens enjoy improved living standards and greater access to education and healthcare."

#2 (Second paragraph) Strengths:

- Introduces the concept of helping impoverished nations
- Attempts to show broader implications of economic growth

Weaknesses: Unclear Logical Connection → Your discussion about "3rd partying countries" lacks clear connection to your main argument. The relationship between domestic economic growth and helping impoverished nations needs stronger development to support your position.

Exemplar: "Rapid economic growth strengthens our ability to support developing nations through increased trade partnerships and humanitarian aid, ultimately creating a more stable global economy."

#3 (Third paragraph) Strengths:

- Good use of specific cultural landmarks as examples
- Shows relationship between economic growth and preservation

Weaknesses: Limited Development of Key Ideas → Your discussion of the Eiffel Tower and Louvre Museum needs more detail about how economic growth specifically supports preservation. The phrase "stake of the arc features" requires clearer explanation of the connection between funding and preservation.

Exemplar: "Economic growth generates substantial tourism revenue and government funding that enables the preservation and enhancement of cultural landmarks like the Eiffel Tower and Louvre Museum, ensuring their survival for future generations."

Actionable Task: Rewrite your second paragraph focusing specifically on how domestic economic growth benefits both local citizens and international partners. Include two specific examples of these benefits.

Score: 40/50

Section 2:

#1 ~~Imagine your city prospering and thriving over the limit, excelling in economic growth. Picture the jolly laughter of the satisfied citizens with their unwavering happiness.~~ [Imagine your city prospering and thriving beyond expectations, excelling in economic growth. Picture the genuine satisfaction of citizens enjoying unprecedented levels of prosperity.] Prioritising rapid economic growth clearly outweighs the benefits of cultural preservation as there will be improved well-being and may support cultural preservation. ~~Also, we can preserve our future country from rapid economic growth.~~ [Moreover, rapid economic growth can secure our country's future.]

#2 First and foremost, rapid economic growth is essential for developing our country. ~~It promotes our and the country's well-being in versatile ways such as prioritising 3rd partying countries that are impoverished.~~ [It promotes both domestic and international well-being through strategic partnerships with developing nations.] This will rank the country's well-being higher and improve the quality of the impoverished country.

#3 ~~Additionally, rapid economic growth expands on the topic of cultural preservation.~~ [Furthermore, rapid economic growth enhances our capacity for cultural preservation.] Iconic capital such as the Eiffel Tower and the ~~Louver~~ [Louvre] Art Museum may be preserved as money invested would make the ~~stake of the are features~~ [structural and artistic features] improved, and enhanced for future years.

Do you want the country's future to prosper? Investing in rapid economic growth will aid with education, hospitality, privileges, food and water accessibility, enhanced infrastructure, and improved political stability, all these factors will enhance the destiny of the country. ~~Rapid economic growth will not only scatter to these options, this will create an overall improvement in all the factors.~~ [Rapid economic growth will not only contribute to these aspects but will create comprehensive improvements across all sectors.]

To conclude, rapid economic growth is the go as it improves well-being, ~~potentially advocate~~ [potentially advocates] for cultural preservation, and also ~~considering~~ [considers] the future effects in our country. Without any doubt, economic growth outweighs cultural preservation. Just imagine your country thriving and prospering.
