

Section 1:

#1: "The Raffles Hotel Raffles Hotel and Resort isn't a name; it's a legacy. It's luxury, an experience, and it has a long history. Each room is a mix of history and culture, and it's just sophisticated with many long hallways, three levels, and many more things to it."

Strengths:

- Effective opening that establishes the hotel's significance
- Good use of parallel structure in describing multiple aspects

Weakness: Redundant Phrasing → Your opening sentence repeats "Raffles Hotel" unnecessarily and contains vague descriptions like "many more things to it," which diminish the impact of your writing.

Exemplar: "The Raffles Hotel stands as more than a mere name—it represents a legacy of luxury and experience steeped in history. Each room artfully blends historical elements with cultural sophistication, featuring grand hallways across its three magnificent levels."

#2: "Staying at Raffles is not just a stay for the day; it's an experience that people should cherish. From buffets that have food so good that you would never want to leave. It also has other features such as spas, fitness centres, swimming pools, and many more, but what they all have in common is that they are all clean and always usable, unlike some hotels that I have gone to."

Strengths:

- Strong emphasis on experiential value
- Good detail in amenity description

Weakness: Fragmented Structure → You've used an incomplete sentence starting with "From buffets" and included comparative elements that lack specific details.

Exemplar: "A stay at Raffles transcends the ordinary, offering an experience to cherish. The sumptuous buffets feature exquisite cuisine that entices guests to linger, whilst the immaculately maintained spas, fitness centres, and swimming pools exemplify the hotel's commitment to excellence."

#3: "It is expected that in the future, the Raffles Hotel will be all over the world, as it is already in some countries other than Singapore. While preserving its heritage, Raffles will continue to modernise, attracting more travellers to not only come to the Raffles but also Singapore."

Strengths:

- Forward-looking perspective
- Good connection between hotel and destination

Weakness: Imprecise Language → Your discussion of global expansion uses vague phrases like "all over the world" and "some countries," which reduces the professional tone of your writing.

Exemplar: "The Raffles Hotel continues its strategic global expansion beyond Singapore, whilst maintaining its celebrated heritage. This careful balance of modernisation and tradition positions the hotel to attract discerning travellers to both its properties and Singapore itself."

Actionable Task: Rewrite the first paragraph focusing on specific architectural and historical details that make the Raffles Hotel unique, ensuring each sentence builds upon the previous one to create a cohesive narrative.

Overall Score: 40/50

Section 2:

~~#1 The Raffles Hotel Raffles Hotel and Resort isn't a name; it's a legacy. It's luxury, an experience, and it has a long history. Each room is a mix of history and culture, and it's just sophisticated with many long hallways, three levels, and many more things to it. [The Raffles Hotel and Resort stands as more than a name; it's a legacy. It embodies luxury, experience, and history. Each room artfully blends history and culture, showcasing sophisticated design throughout its three levels with their grand hallways.]~~

The Raffles Hotel is a luxury place to go. In just one small room, you will feel like a millionaire living in a mansion. On the outside, you will see the architecture of a building that was made more than a hundred years ago. The prestige flag on the roof makes it look iconic. The ambience in the hallways just makes it feel so luxurious. The garden outside is taken care of daily, meaning that the staff care for their visitors.

~~#2 Staying at Raffles is not just a stay for the day; it's an experience that people should cherish. From buffets that have food so good that you would never want to leave. It also has other features such as spas, fitness centres, swimming pools, and many more, but what they all have in common is that they are all clean and always usable, unlike some hotels that I have gone to. [Staying at Raffles transcends a mere daily sojourn; it's an experience to cherish. The exceptional buffets offer cuisine so remarkable that guests are reluctant to depart. The hotel's pristine amenities, from spas and fitness centres to swimming pools, showcase an unwavering commitment to maintaining exemplary standards.]~~

The Raffle Hotel has a long history with many important people who have stayed there. These people include literary giants, Charlie Chaplin, Queen Elizabeth II, and many more. The Raffles Hotel has also been featured in a few movies. Being over a hundred years old, it's one of the few standing hotels that have been made in the late 1800s.

~~#3 It is expected that in the future, the Raffles Hotel will be all over the world, as it is already in some countries other than Singapore. While preserving its heritage, Raffles will continue to modernise, attracting more travellers to not only come to the Raffles but also Singapore. [The Raffles Hotel continues its thoughtful expansion across the globe, building upon its Singapore foundation. Whilst preserving its heritage, Raffles embraces modernisation, drawing travellers to experience both its distinctive properties and Singapore's charm.]~~