

Section 1:

#1 (First paragraph) Strengths:

- Clear thesis statement introducing three main arguments
- Effective use of parallel structure in listing the main points

Weaknesses: Underdeveloped Introduction → Your opening sentence lacks context and depth. The phrase "keeps a moderation in the world" is vague and doesn't effectively establish the significance of the topic.

Exemplar: "In today's professional world, white A4 paper remains the standard choice for its practicality, professionalism, and cost-effectiveness."

#2 (Second paragraph) Strengths:

- Good use of rhetorical question to engage readers
- Strong emphasis on the practical benefits of contrast

Weaknesses: Limited Evidence → Your comparison between white and coloured paper relies heavily on a single example of purple paper. The phrase "black keeps a contrast" needs more specific details about readability benefits.

Exemplar: "The stark contrast between black text and white paper ensures optimal readability in various lighting conditions, making it essential for both professional documents and everyday use."

#3 (Final paragraph) Strengths:

- Attempts to connect to real-world context
- Clear presentation of cost comparison

Weaknesses: Abrupt Conclusion → Your conclusion suddenly introduces new information about inflation and housing costs without proper development. The exclamatory final sentence "IF we keep white paper, it will keep the professionalism of this world today!" doesn't effectively reinforce your main arguments.

Exemplar: "The economic advantages of white paper, combined with its professional appeal and practical benefits, make it the cornerstone of modern document management."

Actionable Task: Rewrite your introduction paragraph focusing on developing a more specific explanation of how white paper maintains professionalism in different contexts, using concrete examples from various professional settings.

---

Score: 41/50

---

Section 2:

#1 ~~White A4 paper keeps a moderation in the world, leaving it clean.~~ [White A4 paper maintains professional standards worldwide while ensuring clarity in documentation.] White A4 paper is the best ~~colour~~ [coloured] A4 paper because it is cleaner and easier to read, it is neutral, making it more mature and it is easier and cheaper to make.

#2 Firstly, white A4 paper is cleaner and easier to read. Other colours are usually darker, making it harder for lead to write on. Have you ever felt the disappointment when black was too hard to see on purple? Well, with white, black keeps a contrast, making it convenient and easier for people to see. White is bright, after all, so it is eye-catching.

In addition, white paper is neutral, making it more mature and professional. Lawyers, doctors and other professional workers use white for their documents, and it's only professional and fair to keep it that way. Lawyers keep their high-in-court ability by using mature paper, not coloured, art ones. Students should learn to be professional as well, to keep up with high standards as they grow up to becoming adults.

Lastly, white paper is easier and cheaper to make. White paper is used from raw material to convert a chip, to a pulp, and ~~them~~ [then] washed, bleached and much more. White paper on the market is way cheaper as well. As such, buying 1 pack of white paper costs about $10, as buying ~~coloured~~ [coloured] paper costs about $15. Buying white paper instead of coloured can help save a lot of money, to keep up with Sydney's high cost of inflation and housing.

#3 ~~In conclusion, white paper is the best colour for A4 paper because of the reasons above. If we keep white paper, it will keep the professionalism of this world today!~~ [In conclusion, white A4 paper remains the optimal choice for professional documentation, combining practicality, professionalism, and cost-effectiveness in today's world.]