

Section 1:

#1 Opening Paragraph Strengths:

- Vivid sensory details create a powerful emotional atmosphere ("calloused hands shaking," "murky, filthy door")
- Effectively establishes the stakes of the argument through personal narrative

Weaknesses: Insufficient Connection to Main Argument → Your opening narrative, while engaging, could be more explicitly tied to your thesis about UBI. The transition between the descriptive scene and your main points about UBI feels abrupt.

Exemplar: "As robots move silently around the workplace, replacing human workers and shattering dreams, Universal Basic Income emerges not just as policy, but as a lifeline - ensuring dignity and choice for millions facing similar struggles."

#2 Second Paragraph Strengths:

- Clear topic sentence that directly states your position
- Good use of real-world examples to support your argument

Weaknesses: Limited Development → Your supporting points would benefit from more specific details about how UBI would help in these scenarios. Your mentions of "harsh conditions" and "injury" could be expanded to show the direct impact of UBI.

Exemplar: "For those unable to work due to disability or harsh circumstances, UBI would provide a crucial safety net of £1,000 monthly, ensuring basic needs are met while maintaining human dignity."

#3 Final Paragraph Strengths:

- Maintains focus on family-related benefits
- Links back to previous arguments effectively

Weaknesses: Circular Logic → Your argument about births and family time becomes repetitive without introducing new supporting evidence. The connection between UBI and increased birth rates needs stronger logical progression.

Exemplar: "With the financial security provided by UBI, families could prioritise quality time together, creating an environment where parents feel confident in their ability to support and nurture children."

Actionable Task: Rewrite your opening paragraph focusing specifically on creating a seamless transition between your narrative scene and your thesis statement about UBI. Ensure each vivid detail directly connects to one of your main arguments.

Section 2:

#1 ~~Envision yourself standing inside a room, hunched over a table, notes strewn all over, your calloused hands shaking. Memories of failed job interviews flash before your eyes as you count the notes in your hand, guilt weighing down your soul. Your monthly ritual of robbing has not ceased as you continue to draw money from Jim to fulfil your debts. The memory of food in now a bygone era to the fridge, the murky, filthy door not opened for many years.~~ [Picture yourself standing in a room, hunched over a table strewn with notes, your calloused hands shaking. Your monthly ritual of borrowing has not ceased as you continue to draw money from Jim to fulfil your debts. The memory of food is now a bygone era, the fridge's murky, filthy door not opened for many years.]

#2 ~~Firstly, I believe Universal Basic Income (UBI) be implemented nationwide because it would ensure people have at least some money.~~ [Firstly, I believe Universal Basic Income (UBI) should be implemented nationwide because it would ensure people have at least some money.] Some people living in poverty or harsh conditions may not have the privilege to work, so ~~to ensure they have a chance of living~~ [to ensure their survival], Universal Basic Income (UBI) should be implemented ~~to ensure they can survive~~ [to provide them with basic sustenance]. Also, a base income will also mean that if you end up injured and only you work to support the family, your family would still survive because you have a base pay. This is why I believe Universal Basic Income (UBI) ~~be~~ [should be] implemented nationwide because it would ensure people have at least some money.

#3 Lastly, I believe Universal Basic Income (UBI) ~~be~~ [should be] implemented nationwide because it would ensure more births in the world. Similar to the second argument, people who don't spend that much time with family find it harder to reproduce. If you didn't spend much time with your family, you wouldn't be able to understand and know them well. Mental problems can also cause stress which makes you very grumpy in the morning. ~~If families could spend more time together, it would ensure more time together.~~ [More time together would strengthen family bonds and create a more supportive environment.] This is why I believe Universal Basic Income (UBI) ~~be~~ [should be] implemented nationwide because it would ensure more births in the world.

In conclusion, I personally believe Universal Basic Income (UBI) ~~be~~ [should be] implemented nationwide because it would ensure that people have at least some money, implement more family time and ensure more births into the world.
