

WRITING PIECE 1 - FEEDBACK

Section 1:

#1 "The silky carpet, what seemed like an elaborately embellished peacock's tail, had vibrant hues of all colours intricately carved into it, each pattern a representative of a past conversation and event." Strengths:

- Vivid sensory details that paint a clear picture
- Creative comparison to a peacock's tail

Weakness: Overloaded sentence structure → Your opening sentence tries to capture too many ideas at once. The comparison between the carpet and peacock's tail feels disconnected from the pattern descriptions.

Exemplar: The silky carpet unfurled like an elaborately embellished peacock's tail. Its vibrant hues formed intricate patterns, each one telling the story of a past conversation or event.

#2 "The carpet palpitated with a supernatural force, its boundaries only accessible to the ones that had truly listened to its symphonies." Strengths:

- Mystical atmosphere created through word choice
- Unique personification of the carpet

Weakness: Unclear connection → Your link between the carpet's movement and accessibility needs more development. The mention of "symphonies" comes suddenly without earlier musical references.

Exemplar: The carpet pulsed with supernatural energy, revealing its secrets only to those who understood its rhythmic language.

#3 "Yet despite the enticing looks, the inner core has a deeper valued meaning, a tapestry of iconic past events and glimpses of famous conversations" Strengths:

- Good attempt at showing deeper meaning
- Nice contrast between appearance and essence

Weakness: Tense consistency → Your writing shifts from past to present tense. The phrase "deeper valued meaning" feels awkward and needs restructuring.

Exemplar: Beyond its enticing appearance lay the carpet's true essence: a tapestry woven with iconic moments and echoes of profound conversations.

■ Your piece creates an intriguing magical object but needs more specific details about the conversations and events stored within the carpet. Consider expanding on one or two specific memories the carpet holds to give readers a stronger emotional connection. You could also develop the relationship between the carpet and those who seek its comfort more clearly.

Actionable Task: Rewrite your piece focusing on one specific memory contained within the carpet's patterns, describing both its visual representation and the story behind it.

Section 2:

#1 ~~The silky carpet, what seemed like an elaborately embellished peacock's tail, had vibrant hues of all colours intricately carved into it, each pattern a representative of a past conversation and event.~~ [The silky carpet, which seemed like an elaborately embellished peacock's tail, had vibrant hues of all colours intricately woven into it, each pattern representing a past conversation and event.]

#2 ~~The carpet palpitated with a supernatural force, its boundaries only accessible to the ones that had truly listened to its symphonies.~~ [The carpet palpitated with a supernatural force, its boundaries accessible only to those who had truly listened to its symphonies.]

The carpet seemed to be the soul of the world, livening up the bleak environment, the only source of light. Its energy pumped out melodic harmonies, the faint waves of laughter with the intertwining of bass and woodwind.

The carpet is reminiscent of the challenges of life, an escape from hardships and struggles, comforting the ones who seek refuge, a haven, and sanctuary.

#3 ~~Yet despite the enticing looks, the inner core has a deeper valued meaning, a tapestry of iconic past events and glimpses of famous conversations, all unraveled in the history of the carpet.~~ [Yet despite its enticing appearance, the inner core held a deeper meaning, a tapestry of iconic past events and glimpses of famous conversations, all woven into the history of the carpet.]

WRITING PIECE 2 - FEEDBACK

Section 1:

#1: "Deep beneath the city, where no light ever touched, Aiden discovered a hidden door that pulsed with an eerie blue glow." Strengths:

- Your opening line creates an immediate sense of mystery and intrigue
- Your use of sensory details with "eerie blue glow" helps readers visualise the scene

Weakness: Limited setting development → Your description of the underground location could be more detailed. The phrase "where no light ever touched" leaves readers wanting more context about this mysterious place.

Exemplar: Deep beneath the city's forgotten tunnels, where centuries of darkness held secrets untold, Aiden discovered an ancient door that pulsed with an eerie blue glow.

#2: "The symphony of the hues intertwined with each other, forging a melodic combination of the bass section and the woodwind." Strengths:

- Your creative use of musical metaphors to describe colours
- Your sophisticated vocabulary enhances the magical atmosphere

Weakness: Unclear connection between elements → Your comparison between colours and music needs better linking. The sudden mention of "bass section and woodwind" feels disconnected from the carpet's description.

Exemplar: The symphony of hues danced across the carpet like musical notes, each colour singing its own melody - deep blues rumbling like bass notes, while lighter shades whispered like distant flutes.

#3: "His body lightened up and his heart felt of air. As the music palpitated through him, the velvety carpet's glowing began to diminish with each wave of comfort flowing through Aiden." Strengths:

- Your description of physical sensations creates immersion
- Your building of tension through gradual transformation

Weakness: Rushed emotional progression → Your character's transformation happens too quickly. The phrases "body lightened up" and "heart felt of air" need more emotional build-up.

Exemplar: A warmth spread through his limbs, making each step feel lighter than the last. His heart, once heavy with fear, now seemed to float in his chest as the carpet's otherworldly music flowed through him.

■ Your writing shows great potential in creating a magical atmosphere, but needs more development in the story's progression. You could expand on Aiden's emotional journey from fear to acceptance of the magical carpet. Adding more details about the underground setting would help readers better understand the story's world. Consider making your piece longer by including Aiden's thoughts and feelings throughout his experience.

Actionable Task: Rewrite the scene focusing on Aiden's gradual emotional transformation as he interacts with the carpet, ensuring each stage of his journey from fear to acceptance is clearly shown.

Section 2:

#1 Deep beneath the city, where no light ever touched, Aiden discovered a hidden door that pulsed with an eerie blue glow. What lay ahead was ~~a spread of peacock's tail~~ [a spread like a peacock's tail], brimming with vibrant hues and glowing against the bleak background. The carpet, which seemed like a haven for us, ~~was just a mere rug~~ [appeared as merely a rug], reclusing from the rest of the world.

#2 The intricate carvings in each sophisticated pattern marked a symbolic meaning, and as Aiden crept in, it pulsated with ~~re-enforced~~ [reinforced] energy. The symphony of the hues intertwined with each other, forging a melodic combination of the bass section and the woodwind. Aiden circled the eerie carpet, sending a shiver down his spine.

#3 Gulping, he reached for the carpet, its texture feeling like the velvety touch of cotton candy. It was as if he brushed through nothingness; as if he brushed through the air. ~~As he trimmed his hand over~~ [As his hand brushed against] the silky fur of the leopard, the harmony seemed to flow into him. His body lightened up and his heart felt of air. As the music palpitated through him, the velvety carpet's glowing began to diminish with each wave of comfort flowing through Aiden. At last, nothing was left but an old, worn-out rug.
