

Section 1:

#1 "Under my bed lies a petite note explaining how it was an enormous surprise left by an anonymous person. It told me to open the door and go inside before it was too late."

Strengths:

- Creates suspense through the mysterious note's discovery
- Effectively builds anticipation with the time-sensitive message

Weakness: Inconsistent Tense Usage → Your writing shifts between present and past tense within the same paragraph. For instance, "lies" is in present tense while "told" switches to past tense. This disrupts the flow of your narrative.

Exemplar: "Under my bed, I found a petite note explaining that this was an enormous surprise left by an anonymous person. The note urged me to open the door and go inside before it was too late."

#2 "I take a step into the enchanted forest and am greeted by someone as small as an ant and someone else as big as an elephant giving me a warm and pleasant smile."

Strengths:

- Vivid size comparisons that help readers visualise the characters
- Creates an inviting atmosphere through the welcoming creatures

Weakness: Run-on Sentence Structure → Your sentence combines multiple ideas without proper coordination, making it difficult to follow. The descriptions of both creatures are merged into one lengthy sentence.

Exemplar: "As I take a step into the enchanted forest, I am greeted by two beings: one as small as an ant, and another as massive as an elephant. Both offer me warm, pleasant smiles."

#3 "Their whispers were echoing in the distance as I heard every word they had said during their conversation."

Strengths:

- Creates an eerie atmosphere through sound imagery
- Effectively conveys the protagonist's isolation

Weakness: Logical Inconsistency → Your writing states the whispers are "in the distance" yet simultaneously claims to hear "every word." This creates confusion about the spatial relationship between the narrator and the trees.

Exemplar: "Though the trees whispered from afar, their words carried clearly through the enchanted air, allowing me to catch every detail of their conversation."

Actionable Task: Rewrite the paragraph about the whispering trees, focusing on maintaining consistent spatial relationships between yourself and the trees throughout the scene. Ensure each sentence flows logically into the next.

Score: 41/50

Section 2:

A Magical adventure: Introduction:  Hello, welcome to this whimsical journey where we are going to take a glimpse of an enchanted forest encountering creatures you've never seen and many more. ~~Come join me on this magical adventure and let's uncover all the peculiar mysteries in the enchanted forest.~~ [Join me on this magical adventure as we uncover the peculiar mysteries within the enchanted forest.]

A mysterious entry:  A miniature but rough object falls from the sky and hits my head. ~~The peculiar object startles me and I stare in shock and bewilderment while trying to find out where the object had come from.~~ [Startled by the peculiar object, I stare in shock and bewilderment, trying to determine its origin.] #1 ~~Under my bed lies a petite note explaining how it was an enormous surprise left by an anonymous person.~~ [Under my bed, I discover a petite note explaining that this was an enormous surprise left by an anonymous person.] It told me to open the door and go inside before it was too late. What did that mean? Out of curiosity I ~~grab~~ [I grabbed] the heavy ladder from the closet and slowly ~~open~~ [opened] the door with caution. I ~~take~~ [took] a small glimpse of what I thought was an attic but turns out to be an enchanted forest filled with creative wonders. I was flabbergasted and left astonished.

A mythical encounter:  #2 ~~I take a step into the enchanted forest and am greeted by someone as small as an ant and someone else as big as an elephant giving me a warm and pleasant smile.~~ [As I stepped into the enchanted forest, I was greeted by two beings: one as small as an ant, the other as large as an elephant. Both gave me warm, pleasant smiles.] A pink spider the size of my hand ~~approaches~~ [approached] me. ~~His back is glowing like a lamp and told me all about him.~~ [Its back glowed like a lamp as it told me all about itself.] ~~She greets~~ [She greeted] me with a hi and I

~~respond~~ [responded] with a smile but in my head ~~I was horrified and thought my head would fall off if it didn't come off of me.~~ [I was horrified, convinced my head would explode from fear.]

I walked around observing the two headed dragon, a flying dog but my favourite animal was the rabbit who could make candy. ~~I am able to ask around thirty five questions but she never responds.~~ [I asked around thirty-five questions, but she never responded.] While asking the rabbit I took a candy bar and left quietly without anyone noticing. This was definitely one of the most unforgettable moments I've ever had.

Whispering trees:  The park was beautiful with the lovely scenery. The pink blossom trees were vibrant with pink, white and red. ~~As I walk towards the park rustling trees walk towards me like they were trying to hurt me.~~ [As I walked towards the park, rustling trees moved menacingly in my direction.] To the other mysterious creatures they would always greet them except for me. #3 ~~Their whispers were echoing in the distance as I heard every word they had said during their conversation.~~ [Their whispers carried through the enchanted air, each word of their conversation reaching my ears with perfect clarity.]

Apparently, a mysterious person had caught me stealing a piece of candy from the rabbit's candy shop and now everyone including the trees ~~were gossiping~~ [was gossiping] to each other and now I sounded like I murdered someone. I think that the story was changed because finally someone told me that I had apparently robbed a bank. In the end I got furious when I found out who had started gossiping about me because they changed every part of what actually happened.

A glimpse of magic:  I finally begin to exit the enchanted forest and everyone starts to hug me including the trees and the spider. ~~As I open the whimsical door a portal appears slowly sucking me until I disappear.~~ [As I opened the whimsical door, a portal appeared, slowly drawing me in until I disappeared.] I fall from my ceiling towards my bed on my head. I start to feel dizzy but after a while I feel well and decide to clean my room. I found a crumbled note left on my pillow that I had never seen. I open it carefully and read the note slowly. I quietly murmur "I hope you enjoy your birthday present from Mum. "Wait, how does she even know?" As soon as I read the words in my head the door from the ceiling disappears and all that is left is an image of me and a mystical world. That was a glimpse of magic in a magical adventure.

The glimpse of magic that I just saw is a reminder to you that there is always space for wonder and imagination in life. Thank you for reading this story and I hope that you enjoy this text that I wrote.

From Audrey H