

Should Rich Countries Be Required to Help Poorer Nations?

I think it is imperative that rich countries help poor countries because of three reasons. Firstly because of their economy, secondly because of natural disasters and lastly because of their people. So, I will explain these points on to why rich countries should definitely help poor nations.

Firstly, the economy would most likely crumble due to the poor nation. The roads and inference structure would be terrible, and many buildings would break down due to not enough money to build them again. Also, the country would be defenceless due to not having enough money to buy weapons, tanks, and gear for soldiers.

Secondly, natural disasters happen like tornados, floods, eruptions, typhons and earthquakes. They are extremely powerful, and they can wipe out cities in an instant. So, to fix these problems you need to have a lot of money to pay for the mess in the city to rebuild everything back up.

Lastly, nations need people. Without people a nation is nothing. So that means people need money to survive and they need money. Without any of that people won't be anything left. So, I think that people will need money for their basic needs such as food, water and clothing.

So that is why it is vital to have rich countries helping poor countries! Because of the economy, natural disasters and for its people.

Are smartphones making us dumber?

Smartphones. They are now in our everyday lives. We use them for our purposes. But the big question remains, are they making us dumber? We use them every single day but are those hours on social media making us dumber? Well, they most definitely are. When you watch those cute cat videos, they make you brain want to watch more and soon you watch them every single day until the end of time. The addictiveness makes you crazy for more and soon you forget everything you need to do. You forget studies books and knowledge. And after that you forget everything, you need to know. All of this is terrible, but it gets worse. The adds included on tik tok and YouTube are now all in your head making the only thing you wanting to do is buy stuff and watch social media. So, you might be wondering, "how do we stop this?" Well, it is simple STOP USING SMART PHONES! When you stop using them and read books instead you will gain knowledge instead of losing it so STOP USING SMARTPHONES SO MUCH!

Should school start later?

School should undoubtedly later because of three reasons. Because of sleep because of focus and because of grades. I will explain these points in more detail in the next paragraph.

Firstly, as I mentioned earlier sleep. Sleep helps us grow taller and is an extremely important part of our routine. Now, teenagers are meant to get at least 8 hours of sleep but 70% of high schoolers get less. Now if they were to sleep longer then, they would obviously be more focused and ready to go. Now if you're thinking why don't the sleep earlier? Well, teenagers get a bunch of homework which doesn't let them sleep early so they must sleep late. So, by starting school later they will be more focussed and concentrated.

That brings me to my second point, being focused. When you sleep in you can relax and not worry about anything and you can get ready slowly. When you do that, your brain becomes more focused and can think better. However, if you wake up at 7am and then get ready in a rush and quickly get to school your brain will still be asleep. So, starting school later would make student more focused.

Now lastly, Grades When you wake up later and stay up later then when you stay up later then you have more time to do stuff for those who like waking up early. Also, if you're tired to finish your homework you can wake up early and quickly finish it.

Now in conclusion you should make school start later because you can focus more, get the proper amount of sleep and get better grades
