

Should homework be banned?

Imagine this: You do six hours of work you walk home and all you want to do is relax and sleep but instead you must do homework till early hours of the morning. This is why School homework should undoubtedly be banned. Two reasons why people must ban this terrible thing is having no hobbies and attention.

Firstly, if you have no hobbies then you will not be good at anything and if you are no good at anything. That is exactly what homework is doing to you! You not being able to go out makes you never get to try something new. Most kids slowly start dropping out on hobbies because they need to study and do homework. So, by banning homework kids can enjoy themselves and play new sports.

Lastly, if you must stay up till twelve am in the morning by the time you get to school you will obviously not have a good night sleep and soon you will be tired and grumpy and you will have a terrible day at school. It shows that 56.7% of students do not get enough sleep, and only 10% of students do in Australia. So, by homework becoming banned people can get enough sleep and relax.

So, in conclusion, Homework should be banned because of focus and hobbies. So, instead of this, why do not we add an extra hour of school so we can learn more which would make an excellent make up for homework.

Should schools ban mobile phones?

Schools should absolutely be banned in schools because of three reasons focus, cyberbullying and health.

Firstly, focus. Focus is an important skill so you can learn and understand things at school. Phones take that away from you. You must stop using these devices so people can focus and get better grades. These devices are harming us and will ruin our focus and health.

Secondly, bullying is a terrible thing, and no one should have to experience it.

Cyberbullying is even worse because people can pretend to be someone and say mean things to people. This can cause anxiety and stress which can lead to depression and not doing well in school. However, if phones are banned then no kid would ever experience this terrible thing.

Lastly, health. Health is extremely important, and phones make our health worse.

Although there is no true evidence of mobile phones harming us it can cause eye strain, sleep disorder and hand and wrist pain. All these things happen after using your phone for too long so there needs to be a ban on these things.

In conclusion phones should 100% be banned and students should stop using them.

The reasons are because of health, bullying and focus.
