

Writing Homework Day 2

Dear Local Council,

Do you ever think about what you're doing? You want to destroy the library for a shopping centre! You cannot do that! The library was built over 100 years ago and you wouldn't want to destroy it so future generations can't see it. Right? The library is a community space where people can bond and work together. And how would people have a place for study or relaxation? You must NOT demolish the library!

Historical structures are really important as people get to see something that was built a long time ago. Me, as a concerned student, knows the library was built over 100 years ago and if you knock it down now, future generations won't be able to experience the peacefulness like we did. Imagine how devastated they'd be! Imagine when they found out that there was once a library! Imagine how angry they would be!

The library can be used in different ways. One of the ways is that many people come together for projects or to socialise. Say if a group of friends come there after school to work on a presentation together? If you destroyed the library, they would be devastated to find out that they can't work together in peace. Think about what an impact you'd make. Kids often need creativity to grow up and use it in life. Tearing down this significant place would stop that!

Do you ever have a place for relaxation or to study? Most people would say their home but the library is where most people go. It provides a nice calm quiet place for them. Destroying it not only ruins student's peacefulness but also can hold them back from their education. Many people, as said before, study at the library so demolishing the library would allow them to get distracted when doing work at home. What if the student had limited wifi? The impact that you'll make would be massive. They would have to go to one of their houses and work while their mum was cooking dinner or if their dad was watching soccer or if their younger sibling was annoying them.

That's why you must not demolish the library. Many people might not be able to experience the library, kids won't be able to work on things and the library is a place for relaxation. Destroying the library would not only limit how many people can see it, but also devalue people. That is why you mustn't demolish the library!

Sincerely, Matthew Hwang
